6.0 STEPS

Guidelines in regard to acceptable behaviours and best practice for all YMCA People are available and will be regularly revised with input from children and young people, parents, staff, and management.

Parents/guardians will be able to access documentation regarding behaviour guidelines and expectations.

6.1 PRACTICE THAT YMCA WA PEOPLE MUST FOLLOW:

YMCA People must conduct themselves in a manner that is consistent with their position and always act as a positive role model for children and young people. The guidelines for this conduct includes but is not limited to –

YMCA WA People accepting responsibilities for supervising children and young people are to ensure they must:

- engage positively in the service or program
- behave with respect toward one another
- are in a safe environment and are protected from external threats
- are aware of situations and environments that require extra supervision and act to minimise danger or risk of harm.
- Have sound knowledge of children's rights and respond to their right to feel safe and be heard. The child or young person's voice will be respected and listened to.
- Ensure relevant ratios to children and young people are maintained at all times to provide effective supervision.
- Raise all concerns, issues and problems with their supervisor within relevant guidelines as per the Safeguarding Reporting Procedure.
- Seek the permission of children and young people before interacting physically with them.

- Regularly access training in safeguarding children and young people and related matters. This may include E-Learning and or face to face learning.
- Limit physical interactions with a child or young person based on meeting the child or young person's needs rather than the needs of the YMCA WA Person.
- Ask and gain permission from children and young people before interacting physically with them.,
- Avoid any behaviour and or action that could be reasonably interpreted as grooming behaviour, this includes but is not limited to behaviour in which individual children / young people are singled out for special treatment, acting in a secretive way and or breaking established protocols for interactions.
- Ensure they are never alone with a child or young person where they cannot be observed by another YMCA WA staff member or volunteer. (it is recognized that in the case of family day care, in home care and youth mentoring, YMCA WA People will be left alone with children and young people however the risk of harm will be minimized through the completion of a formal risk assessment of the activity including risk mitigation strategies).
- Ensure young children under the age of twelve (12) in YMCA programs/services are appropriately supervised in bathrooms, showers and locker rooms or be required to accompany one another in pairs at such times.
- Be identified by a YMCA WA name badge and, where practicable, a branded uniform that is familiar and is the same as that of their co-workers where providing direct care to children and young people.
- Declare to their Manager or Supervisor prior to being employed, associations, conflicts or potential conflict of interest and developed friendships with families, children and young people who participate in YMCA programs.
- During transportation of children and young people ensure normal staffing ratios are in place, with a minimum of two paid staff at all times (inclusive of the driver). Where this cannot occur for operational reasons, a risk assessment must be in place. Family Day Care operators are exempt from these requirements and may transport children with a sole operator.
- Remain within sight and hearing of each other at all times and at least one of the staff members must be first aid qualified. Where for operational reasons this cannot occur the approved Risk Assessment process addressing single staffing must be in place (this requires GM and or Exec approval).
- Promote equity, diversity and inclusion. YMCA WA People will ensure practices and community service delivery are inclusive and respectful of individual differences and abilities. They will embrace and celebrate diversity – age, gender, sex, sexual orientation, race, national or ethnic origin, religion, language, political beliefs and physical ability; and actively support participation in our services by all children, young people and adults irrespective of their abilities, developmental capabilities or life circumstances.
- Ensure that when operating in online environments (e.g. online meetings, online sessions) safeguarding risks are managed such as what other participants can view during an online activity. This includes ensuring that confidential information is not displayed in the background and that children or young people cannot be viewed by other people's cameras unless the child or young person has already provided signed consent to participate in that activity/meeting. If other participants use inappropriate language during a session it should be considered whether a warning is appropriate and, if it continues, removing that individual from the session or ending the session. If inappropriate images are shown, the session should be stopped. Refer to the Y WA's Code of Conduct and incident reporting processes.

6.2 CONDUCT CONSIDERED UNACCEPTABLE INCLUDES BUT IS NOT LIMITED TO:
