HQ has a number of versatile spaces for use and hire by young people and the community at large.

These include:

HQ Gig Space - an event space suitable for live music events, performance, seminars, training and workshops.

HQ Gallery - a professionally outfitted exhibition space that is available for hire by emerging and established artists. The gallery is available for free to artists under 26 years of age (conditions apply) or at discounted rates for older, established artists. The space is also suitable for small functions, workshops or seminars.

HQ Courtyard - a large open, outdoor area suitable for outdoor performance, markets or gatherings. The space is fully enclosed by a wall sporting a continually evolving display of urban art produced by local young people.

HQ Hot Desk Space - a series of versatile office/workspaces for use on a casual basis by young people requiring a place to launch or develop small business initiatives in a supportive, easily accessible environment. Work & meeting spaces are available for hire by the hour, day or week with discounted rates for young people and the community/not for profit sector. The space is equipped with a wireless internet connection, computers and telephones for use by space users and also provides mentoring and access to professional development opportunities for users.

All HQ spaces are inclusive and accessible to people of all backgrounds and abilities.
